

The Capybaras and the Volcano

A book by Aaron

This book was made by Aaron

Aaron told Muse the story, and Muse helped make the pictures.

Once upon a time, there were three capybaras.

They lived together in a cozy little house.

This is Big Capybara.

Big Capybara is big and kind.

This is Baby Capybara.

Baby Capybara is small and cute.

This is Happy Capybara.

Happy Capybara has an orange on his head!

The capybaras liked to play.

Spin, spin, spin!

They liked to eat.

Nom nom nom.

They liked to sit together.

Sit, sit, sit. Very still, like statues!

One day, Baby Capybara said,
Let's do an experiment!

Science time!

Let's make a volcano! said Big Capybara.

A volcano! A volcano!

They built a little volcano on the table.

Push, pat, push, pat.

They put the white powder in.

Spoon, spoon, spoon.

They poured the water in.

Pour... pour... pour...

It bubbled!

Bubble, bubble, bubble!

It fizzed!

Fizz, fizz, fizz!

Then... BOOM!

The volcano erupted! Red fizzy lava everywhere!

It was so funny!

The capybaras laughed and laughed.

RUN AWAY! said Happy
Capybara.

Run away! Run away!

The capybaras ran and ran.

Fast, fast, fast!

They ran to the hill.

Safe on the hill!

From the hill, they watched the volcano.

Wow! Fizz, fizz... then it stopped.

Hooray! Everyone was safe.

No one got hurt. It was just fizzy fun.

Now let's do more experiments! said Baby Capybara.

More experiments!

Magnets!

Big red magnets!

The magnets picked up paper clips.

Click! Click! Look, no hands!

The magnets picked up spoons.

Click! Spoons are hanging!

Magnets stick together. CLICK!

And magnets can push away too. Whoa!

The capybaras played with magnets all day.

Science is amazing!

Everyone played happily ever after. THE END

By Aaron. Thank you for reading!